

About the Trails

Black Bear Trail: Wheelchair accessible trail that passes many reminders of the Swink Farm on its way to the Swink Pond. This flat, paved path is less than 1/4 mile.

Mattioli Trail: Short walk that leads to the Mattioli Pavilion. Also connects to the Kreger Trail and Deer Trail.

Kreger Trail: Winds through the old shale pit, offering an interesting view into the geology of the area.

Garter Snake Trail: Follows old shale pit road to Mader's Pond, passing an old bungalow that is no longer in use.

Songbird Trail: Short loop through old fields and immature forests of deciduous and mixed conifer trees. 1/2 mile

Deer Trail: Large loop that goes over the hill and along the upper boundary of the property. 1.1 mile

Red-tailed Hawk Loop: Most strenuous trail at Kettle Creek. Goes through mature forest and past a glacial erratic boulder that is split in half.

Gray Fox Loop: Meanders through mature hardwood forest.

The remaining trails act as connectors, allowing walks of various distances. These trails end with the name path or way, and are relatively short in distance.
